Why a Campus Security Report?

The Campus Security Act -- Legal requirements

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, codified at 20 USC 1092 (f) as a part of the Higher Education Act of 1965, is a federal law that requires colleges and universities to disclose certain timely and annual information about campus crime and security policies. All public and private institutions of postsecondary education participating in federal student aid programs are subject to it. Violators can be "fined" up to $27,500 by the U.S. Department of Education, the agency charged with enforcement of the Act and where complaints of alleged violations should be made, or face other enforcement action.

The Clery Act, originally enacted by the Congress and signed into law by President George Bush in 1990 as the Crime Awareness and Campus Security Act of 1990, was championed by Howard & Connie Clery after their daughter Jeanne was murdered at Lehigh University in 1986. They also founded the non-profit Security On Campus, Inc. in 1987. Amendments to the Act in 1998 renamed it in memory of Jeanne Clery.

Annual Report-

Schools have to publish an annual report every year by October 1st that contains 3 years worth of campus crime statistics and certain security policy statements including sexual assault policies which assure basic victims' rights, the law enforcement authority of campus police and where students should go to report crimes. The report is to be made available automatically to all current students and employees while prospective students and employees are to be notified of its existence and afforded an opportunity to request a copy. Schools can comply using the Internet so long as the required recipients are notified and provided the exact Internet address where the report can be found and paper copies are available upon request. A copy of the statistics must also be provided to the U.S. Department of Education.

Crime Statistics-

Each school must disclose crime statistics for the campus, unobstructed public areas immediately adjacent to or running through the campus, and certain non-campus facilities including Greek housing and remote classrooms. The statistics must be gathered from campus police or security, local law enforcement, and other school officials who have "significant responsibility for student and campus activities" such as student judicial affairs directors. Professional mental health and religious counselors are exempt from reporting obligations, but may refer patients to a confidential reporting system which the school has to indicate whether or not it has.

Crimes are reported in the following 7 major categories, with several sub-categories: 1.) Criminal Homicide broken down by a.) Murder and Nonnegligent Manslaughter and b.) Negligent manslaughter; 2.) Sex Offenses broken down by a.) Forcible Sex Offenses (includes rape) and b.) Nonforcible Sex Offenses; 3.) Robbery; 4.) Aggravated Assault; 5.) Burglary; 6.) Motor Vehicle Theft; and 7.) Arson. Schools are also required to report the following three types of incidents if they result in either an arrest or disciplinary referral: 1.) Liquor Law Violations; 2.) Drug Law Violations; and 3.) Illegal Weapons Possession. If both an arrest and referral are made only the arrest is counted.

The statistics are also broken down geographically into "on campus," "residential facilities for students on campus," noncampus buildings, or "on public property" such as streets and sidewalks. Schools can use a map to denote these areas. The report must also indicate if any of the reported incidents, or any other crime involving bodily injury, was a "hate crime."

Access To Timely Information-

Schools are also required to provide "timely warnings" and a separate more extensive public crime log. It is these requirements which are most likely to affect the day to day lives of students. The timely warning requirement is somewhat subjective and is only triggered when the school considers a crime to pose an ongoing "threat to students and employees" while the log records all incidents reported to the campus police or security department.

Timely warnings cover a broader source of reports (campus police or security, other campus officials, and off-campus law enforcement) than the crime log but are limited to those crime categories required in the annual report. The crime log includes only incidents reported to the campus police or security department, but covers all crimes not just those required in the annual report, meaning crimes like theft are included in the log. State crime definitions may be used.

Schools that maintain a police or security department are required to disclose in the public crime log "any crime that occurred on campus...or within the patrol jurisdiction of the campus police or the campus security department and is reported to the campus police or security department." The log is required to include the "nature, date, time, and general location of each crime" as well as its disposition if known. Incidents are to be included within two business days but certain limited information may be withheld to protect victim confidentiality, ensure the integrity of ongoing investigations, or to keep a suspect from fleeing. Only the most limited information necessary may be withheld and even then it must be released "once the adverse effect...is no longer likely to occur."

The log must be publicly available during normal business hours. This means that in addition to students and employees the general public such as parents or members of the local press may access it. Logs remain open for 60 days and subsequently must be available within 2 business days of a request.

Our Mission and Values

The Campus Security Department is concerned about the safety and welfare of all campus members and guests and commits itself to promoting a safe and secure environment. Because no campus can totally isolate itself from crime, the Campus Security Department has developed a series of policies and procedures designed to ensure that every possible precaution is taken to protect the campus community.

Sex Offenses

Sexual Assault: It Could Happen to You or Someone You Know

Why Read This Information?

The statistics point out the need. In the U.S., a rape is reported about once every six minutes.* It is one of the fastest growing violent crimes in the United States and college age students are extremely vulnerable to this type of criminal violence.

A survey of more than 6,000 students from 32 colleges in the U.S., found that one of every six female students reported having been a victim of rape or attempted rape during the proceeding year. One out of every fifteen male students reported committing rape or attempting rape during that same period.* These statistics alone are scary, but combine it with the fact that most sexual assaults are not even reported, and the figures become even more alarming.

What Is Sexual Assault And Acquaintance Rape?

Rape is sexual intercourse that is perpetrated against the will of a victim, involving the threat or use of force. It can also occur without force, or threat of force, if the perpetrator has sex with someone incapable of giving consent. Acquaintance rape is rape committed by a known assailant and it is the most prevalent form of rape involving college age victims.

Rape is only one form of sexual assault. Sexual assault includes: sodomy (forced anal intercourse); oral copulation (forced oral-genital contact); rape by a foreign object (forced penetration by a foreign object, including a finger) and criminal sexual contact (the unwanted touching of an intimate part of another person for the purpose of sexual arousal). Although women are most often the victim of sexual assault, it is important to remember that men can be sexually assaulted also.

Protecting Against Acquaintance Rape

Men:

1. Listen carefully. Take time to hear what the woman is saying. If you feel she is not being direct or is giving you a "mixed message," ask for clarification.
2. Don't fall for the common stereotype that when a woman says "No" she really means "Yes." "No" means "No." If a woman says "No" to sexual contact, believe her and stop.

Campus Security Report 2011

3. Remember that date rape is a crime. It is never acceptable to use force in sexual situations, no matter what the circumstances.
4. Don't make assumptions about a woman's behavior. Don't automatically assume that a woman wants to have sex just because she drinks heavily, dresses provocatively, or agrees to go to your room. Don't assume that just because a woman has had sex with you previously she is willing to have sex with you again. Also, don't assume that just because a woman consents to kissing or other sexual intimacies she is willing to have sexual intercourse.
5. Be aware that having sex with someone who is mentally or physically incapable of giving consent is rape. If you have sex with a woman who is drugged, intoxicated, passed out, incapable of saying "No," or unaware of what is happening around her, you may be guilty of rape.
6. Be especially careful in group situations. Be prepared to resist pressure from friends to participate in violent or criminal acts.
7. "Get involved" if you believe someone is at risk. If you see a woman in trouble at a party or a male friend using force or pressuring a woman, don't be afraid to intervene. You may save the woman from the trauma of sexual assault and your friend from the ordeal of criminal prosecution.

Both men and women should be especially careful in situations involving the use of alcohol or drugs. Alcohol and drugs can interfere with your ability to assess situations and to communicate effectively.

Women:

1. Know your sexual intentions and limits. You have the right to say "No" to any unwanted sexual contact. If you are uncertain about what you want, ask the man to respect your feelings.
2. Communicate your limits firmly and directly. If you say "No," say it like you mean it. Don't give mixed messages. Back up your words with a firm tone of voice and clear body language.
3. Don't rely on "ESP" to get your message across. Don't assume that your date will automatically know how you feel, or will eventually "get the message" without your having to tell him.
4. Remember that some men think that drinking heavily, dressing provocatively, or going to a man's room indicates a willingness to have sex. Be especially careful to communicate your limits and intentions clearly in such situations.
5. Listen to your gut feelings. If you feel uncomfortable or think you may be at risk, leave the situation immediately and go to a safe place.
6. Don't be afraid to "make waves" if you feel threatened. If you feel you are being pressured or coerced into sexual activity against your will, don't hesitate to state your feelings and get out of the situation. Better a few minutes of social awkwardness or embarrassment than the trauma of sexual assault.

Protecting Against Stranger Rape

Walking on Campus:

1. Always be aware of what is going on around you. Stay alert to your surroundings.
2. Walk with confidence. Hold your head up and shoulders straight.
3. At night, stick to well-lighted, populated areas and walk with another person. Avoid walking alone or in isolated areas.
4. Use campus escort services.
5. Take special precautions in parking structures, stairwells, elevators, bathrooms, and dark areas with shrubbery. Studies show that many assaults by strangers occur in these places.
6. If you suspect that you are being followed, go to a place where there are other people as soon as possible. If you choose to run, run as fast as you are able and scream to attract attention or summon help.
7. Follow your gut instincts. If you sense that you may be at risk or in danger, try to get out of the situation. For example, if you see a suspicious looking person or someone who makes you feel uncomfortable in a parking structure or lot, leave the area. Report your suspicions to the authorities.

Despite the precautions taken, you or a friend could still become a victim. It is important to remember that it is not the victim's fault. There is nothing for the victim to be ashamed of or feel guilty about.

What To Do If You Or Someone You Know Is Sexually Assaulted

1. Get to a safe place.
2. Report the assault to the police. If the assault occurs on campus, contact Campus Security. Reporting an assault and prosecuting are not the same. The decision to prosecute can be made at a later time. Prosecution however, is an important means in preventing violence against women.
3. Preserve all physical evidence. Don't change clothes, shower, bathe, douche or use the toilet. Don't disturb anything at the scene of where the sexual assault occurred.
4. Go to a hospital emergency room for medical attention. Emergency doctors and nurses are specially trained to be sensitive to the needs of victims and know how to find and preserve evidence. Medical treatment will be provided for any injuries sustained and tests will be sustained and tests will be conducted to determine the presence of sexually transmitted diseases or pregnancy. Take a change of clothing, as you may be asked to leave your clothes as evidence.

Atlantic Cape's Policies and Programs to Prevent Sexual Assault

Atlantic Cape's policy on sexual assault states that the college will not tolerate sexual assault in any form, including acquaintance rape. Where there is probable cause to believe that the college's regulations prohibiting sexual assault have been violated, the college will pursue strong disciplinary action through its own channels.

This discipline includes the possibility of suspension or dismissal from the college. Procedures may be found in the Student Handbook under Misconduct Appeal Process, as well as in the Institutional Procedures and Policy Handbook.

In addition, the following will be incorporated into the established procedures:

Rights of the accuser and the accused

- Both the accuser and the accused are entitled to have others present throughout the disciplinary hearing.
- The accuser and the accused will be immediately informed of the outcome of any campus disciplinary proceeding dealing with charges of sexual assault.
- The accuser will have the right to attend the entire disciplinary hearing if he or she so chooses.
- The accuser's irrelevant past sexual history will not be discussed during the hearing.

- The accuser will have right to make a “victim impact statement” during the proceeding’ and suggest punitive action to be taken by the college.

An individual charged with sexual assault can be prosecuted under New Jersey criminal statutes and disciplined under Atlantic Cape’s institutional policies. Even if the criminal justice authorities choose not to prosecute, the college can pursue disciplinary action.

Other Assistance

In an effort to provide further assistance to a victim of a sexual assault, Atlantic Cape will at the request of the victim make adjustments in the academic schedule if the victim and accused have classes scheduled together. This is provided an alternative class selection is available. In all likelihood, the accused will be moved for the safety and security of all involved.

Registered Sex Offenders

New Jersey law authorizes the Division of State Police to make available to the public over the Internet information about certain sex offenders required to register under Megan’s Law. The sex offender Internet registry law can be found in the criminal justice code of New Jersey statutes at 2C:7-12 to 19. You can access the sex offender website at http://www.state.nj.us/njsp/info/reg_sexoffend.html.

Programs

Campus sexual assault program information and counseling are provided by the college’s Counseling Department and Affirmative Action Officer. These areas offer workshops, conferences and personal counseling on the college’s policy and procedures and student and employee rights.

Upon request, Atlantic Cape’s Security Department may escort individuals to their cars on campus. This service is available by stopping at the security desk of the respective campus or by calling:

Campus Security Report 2011

Conclusion:

Atlantic Cape Community College's Security and Public Safety Department has as its primary responsibility the safety and security of students, visitors, faculty and staff at all Atlantic Cape locations. All locations are staffed 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Security encourages the campus community to report all suspicious activity or crimes by: using security phones in building halls and classrooms, contacting security officers on patrol or by reporting directly to the Security Department Office or desk.

The key to crime prevention is awareness; something the college fosters through educational programs.

As part of its ongoing program to provide information on safety issues, the Security Department, in conjunction with the Dean of Students' office, presents a series of workshops and lectures that are open to all members of the college community. These include programs on self-protection, sexual assault awareness, rape prevention, safety awareness, drug and alcohol abuse and AIDS.

All members of the college community can assist in maintaining a safe environment to stay alert, reporting any suspicious activities to Security and taking steps to avoid becoming the victim of a crime including:

- keep valuables out of sight
- walk in groups at night
- avoid deserted hallways or buildings

Sincerely,

The Members of the Atlantic Cape Security and Public Safety Department
