

Confidential Financial Statement for International Students

International students planning to attend Atlantic Cape Community College must verify that sufficient resources are available to enable them to study in the United States. Students must confirm all identified funding sources and amounts for each source, totaling a minimum of $22,000 ($30,500 for Culinary Arts students) to cover anticipated costs. This amount reflects the costs associated with nine months of study (tuition and fees, living expenses, books, supplies, personal and miscellaneous expenditures) at Atlantic Cape Community College. The financial solvency of each international student, along with the student's academic progress, will be reviewed annually. Employment opportunities for individuals with student visas are very limited and should not be anticipated when identifying resources for U.S. study. A completed Financial Statement must be on file before Atlantic Cape can issue an I-20.
