The Practice of Permaculture

This workshop will explore the practice of Permaculture as it pertains to sustainable land use design. This is based on ecological and biological principles, often using patterns that occur in nature to maximize effect while minimizing wasted energy.

This workshop will explore the following topics:

- Pattern Understanding
- Concepts, Themes, and Methods of Design
- Earth Works and Water & Keyline
- Gardening and Farming Systems
- Plants and Trees
- Healthy Use of Animals in Permaculture Systems
- Permaculture Ethics and Principles
- Climate and Micro-climate,
- Soils, Aquaculture & Aquaponics
- Invisible Structures

Instructor: Wayne Weiseman is certified by The Permaculture Institute of Australia as an instructor of the Permaculture Design Certificate Course. He is also certified by the American Institute of Architecture and the American Society of Landscape Architects to teach continuing education in Permaculture.

He has worked as a builder and contractor, herbalist, renewable energy expert and farmer for 25 years. For many years he managed a land-based, self-reliant community project combining organic crop/food production, ecologically built shelter and renewable energy.
